

National Oil Company Database Data Update Summary – May 2020

In May 2020, the Natural Resource Governance Institute (NRGI) is publishing a data update of the National Oil Company Database. This brief note explains the content of this data update. It can be read in conjunction with the National Oil Company Database: Methodology Guide, which is unrevised since the prior update in December 2019 and is current as of this data update.

Inclusion of additional data from newly-issued reports

With this update we include data from company and government reports that had not been published as of the data cut-off for the previous data update in December 2019. In total, this update captures 26 additional company-years of reports not available in the previous data update. Twelve of these new reports cover 2018, and 14 of them cover previous years.

Among the new company-years covered, 15 derive from annual reports and financial reports published by the companies themselves, and 11 derive from reports of the Extractive Industry Transparency Initiative (EITI).

The appendix details the company-years for which new reports were published during this update period.

Updates and corrections of existing data

The revision also includes some updates to data points that appeared in the database as of the prior update. In some cases, we added individual indicators where available data had previously been missed, or corrected individual indicators where we became aware of a calculation or transcription error. We did not alter the definition or interpretation of any indicators during this data update.
